Pupil comments: Save A Child's Heart outing

I think the exhibition is effective with its message because it makes you understand more about SACH. It tells you more about what these children are going through. I feel happy that these children are going to have a better life – Lara Blacher
The exhibition made me feel sorry for all the children that have suffered, and that I am very lucky to have a normal, healthy life with no problems. I feel relieved when the children walk out of the hospital, and that the doctors helped them – Aimee Messinger
This exhibition has been an eye opening experience. I feel touched by this exhibition. Through these pictures you can see the emotions and what these children have to go through, before and after the operation. Save A Child's Heart is an amazing organisation that has helped many children all around the world. The pictures tell us more than words about the children's amazing stories – Michaela Lurie
The exhibition spoke to me and made me want to help. When I see these photo's they make me sad that I am so privileged – Nathan Herr
When I look at all of those pictures I can't believe that someone a quarter my age can go through so much so young. These people are amazing – Aviv Dahan
It makes people appreciate how lucky we are and it makes me feel emotional and sorry for the children that have to go through that. It also brings me such joy to think about the doctors who actually save these children and the organisations that help fund the children and their families – Gabi Florence
I'm happy that Save A Child's Heart has taken the initiative to form such a beneficial group that has helped to save so many lives. I wish I was old enough to be a volunteer for this amazing organisation – Kelsi Skop
I feel so amazed how someone can go through so much and still smile – Abigail Berkovitz
No matter who the person is, their age, race or religion, a life is a life. I feel that it is amazing how people will go to extremes just to save a life – Kayla Shaban
This exhibition touched me because it shows people who don't have problems how much people who do suffer for such a simple thing that we take for granted: life – Chanan Suiza
The exhibition was very effective. It showed hope. That everyone must have hope – Raphaella Lewis
These photographs fill me with sorrow at the thought of children suffering, but it also moves me to see that these children have a "second chance" at life – Zac Fleishman
It's really nice to know that people in the world are doing such amazing acts of kindness and charity. When I saw the photographs it gave me goose bumps knowing that these children would not be able to live, but when I saw that they are being treated and they are healing it motivated me to change the world in small steps – Rivka Levitz
This exhibition made me so appreciative of life. Nothing anyone can say will amount to these amazing pictures. I will remember them forever – Sarah Zinn
When I viewed these photographs my heart sank for these children and made me open my eyes to what really matters – Daniel Horwitz
This was a great exhibition. It is such a good example of how love triumphs over all and that when faced with a very hard problem, human beings can unite to help each other. Thank you for what you are doing – Jesse Brooks
These pictures have showed me that there are people in the world who want to make a difference. This makes me happy and glad. These pictures have given me hope and understanding – Daniel Marcus
The exhibition was so inspiring. It made me think of all the people in need – Kim Hooper
When I saw these photographs I felt inspired by how strong one so young can be – Shannon Pincus
