Israeli Surgeons Prepare To Operate On Rescued Haitian Child

AZUR, ISRAEL - JANUARY 28: Haitian boy Woodley Elysee (R) takes in his new surroundings at the Save A Child's Heart (SACH) home shortly after his arrival on January 28, 2010 in Azur, near Tel Aviv, Israel. The six-year-old, whose family survived the recent earthquake, was born with fatal multiple heart defects and currently has a life expectancy of about four more years. He was brought back to Israel by the returning IDF aid mission and the Israeli humanitarian organization SACH for life-saving open heart surgery.
